

This figure is a circular scatter plot representing the distribution of 100 numbered points (1-100) across a circular space. The points are colored based on their cluster assignment, with colors ranging from red to blue. The points are densely packed in the center and more sparsely distributed towards the periphery. The plot is titled "Circular Scatter Plot" and includes a legend for the cluster colors.